

Footage of old interview.
Title card: Jack's Movie Reviews

JACK (V.O.)
My name is Jack Tellier and I am a filmmaker.

Assorted clips of me using a camera.

JACK (V.O.)
I have been making films since I was eight years old and have not stopped since.

Trailers, films, music videos, etc.

JACK (V.O.)
I write, direct, shoot, edit, color grade, promote, fund, post, everything.

Footage of DVDs or TV.

JACK (V.O.)
Obviously, I watch a lot of movies.
It's kind of my job.

JACK (V.O.)
This means that, at heart, I have always been a critic. A trip to the movies is not as cheap as it used to be, so I make it my job to inform you, yes, you on the best films playing right now.

Natural sound

JACK
Not to toot my own horn, but I have a perspective and expertise that most critics don't have.

JACK
Completing a film is nothing short of a miracle. So when I review a movie, I want to highlight its strengths and acknowledge some issues that may not entirely be the filmmaker's fault.

JACK
I am looking at movies through the lens of a filmmaker.

I am viewing them as someone who knows what it's like to lack coverage in certain scenes, to lose footage, to deal with unruly cast and crew, to have technical issues and a limited budget.

JACK

While many films are very flawed, and don't get me wrong, deserve critiquing, they can be criticized constructively and sympathetically. Film is a collaborative medium and many factors are outside of a director's control.

More directing footage

JACK

I aim to help you guys have a great moviegoing experience at the theater or at home on the couch. Reviewing and critiquing films is fun, but it can also be done intelligently with care and a willingness to understand.

JACK

Welcome to Jack's Movie Reviews. Reviews of the best - and worst - movies in theaters today! Are you ready to watch?

End Title card